

ARREST OF YOUTHS REVEALS PLAN FOR DARING JAIL DELIVERY

Boys Arrested in Arlington Had Planned To Deliver Prisoners in Concord Reformatory, According To The Police—Letters Found In Possession of Bold Pair Give Clue—Boys Bragged of Theft of Several Automobiles—One Planned To Wed

Plans for a wholesale delivery of Concord reformatory were revealed following the arrest of Frederick Lyman 140 Main street, Charlestown and Walter E. Brophy of 111 Williams street, Jamaica Plain in Arlington, Tuesday. The pair was arrested after being discovered in a stolen automobile on Old Mystic street, by Sergeant Harold E. Pick, and officer William Scamman.

The boys, who proved most boastful following their arrest will have a chance to do some thinking today when they are arraigned in the Brighton District court.

The young men, both twenty-years of age, admitted their exploits in running the Charlestown "loop" in stolen autos. They bragged of sending the car they had stolen from William Maxwell of Brighton, at a speed of 98 miles an hour during the day, but they weren't fast enough to escape Sergeant Harold Pick and the Arlington police cruising car.

Their plot to deliver prisoners from the Concord reformatory was uncovered when Arlington police discovered letters written to them by inmates of the institution, and smuggled to them. They admitted under police grilling that they had visited the reformatory during the day in hopes of getting into communication with inmates with whom they had been friendly before their parol.

Superintendent Michael J. Dee of the reformatory, notified of the alleged plot last night declared that while it was the opinion of officials at the institution that the boys would be capable of plotting to deliver companions, it was also their opinion that neither of them would have courage or brains enough to carry through such a plot. Precautions, however, were taken that no delivery might be consummated.

Brophy and Lyman told Special Officer Maguire of Brighton last night that that they were planning to flee to New York, as soon as they had taken revenge on a "squealer" who had turned them up, and rewarded their friends by freeing them.

They had been hanging around the reformatory during the day in the stolen car upon which they had placed 1931 license plates, which were the same as the 1935 plates, and drove to Arlington, where they parked the car to sleep awhile.

Ser. Pick in the cruising car became suspicious of the parked car and stepped to the side to investigate. The boys pushed him from the car and stepped on the gas. Pick pursued them in the police car and captured them after a short chase.

Arlington turned the sleepy prisoners over to Brighton, from where the car was stolen.

At Brighton the boys bragged that they had broken into several garages and stolen cars from them. They took police on a cruise of the district, pointing out places they had robbed.

Then they told police of their plot against the "squealer" who had accompanied them on wild rides over the Charlestown loop and told about their part after being sent to the reformatory. Charlestown police have warrants for their arrests as a result of the squeal.

Lyman bragged that he had looped Charlestown 22 times before being captured and being sent up to Concord from which he was paroled recently.

"I was going to be married Sunday," he added to police, "but I learned of the squeal of our pal and that the cops were after me, so I didn't go through with it. I'll get the fellow myself now when I go up to Concord again, and when I get out, if the girl will wait for me we'll be married."

He refused to name the girl. The pair also confessed to robberies of auto parts.

Wire Supt. And Firemen Helped Illuminate Tree

In addition to those people mentioned in the Daily News last week as having made possible the electric lighting of the Community Christmas tree in Monument square, Arlington Centre, William E. Mason, superintendent of wires and two members of the Fire Department also helped make the lighting possible. Captain Lester W. Cameron, in charge of the police and fire signal system and fireman Henry Preston were the two members of the fire department whose services were offered by Chief Daniel B. Tierney.

A small group of private citizens, at the suggestion of Park Commissioner Higgins, contributed to defray the expenses of having the tree lighted during the holiday season.

Local Youth Weds Newton Centre Girl

The marriage of Miss Esther M. Harvey, of 506 Parker street, Newton Center to Royall B. Switzer, of 25 Glen avenue, Arlington was recorded at the office of town clerk E. Caroline Pierce, in Arlington yesterday.

The ceremony was performed in Newton by Rev. Laurens MacLure, of that city last Saturday, New Year's Eve. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford T. Switzer and is employed as a landscape architect. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Harvey.

V. F. W. Meets Friday Night

Arlington Post, V. F. W., will meet in G. A. R. Hall Friday evening. The report of the committee in charge of a membership drive will be made. The committee on Christmas baskets, the post having given out a number throughout the town, also will report.

Still Smiles

Though sentenced to be hanged in February, Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd smiled broadly as she left the courtroom in Phoenix, Ariz., after telling the "true story" of the trunk murders to the Grand Jury. Mrs. Judd's story resulted in the indictment of Jack Halloran, Phoenix lumberman, as an accessory and the jury's recommendation for clemency for Mrs. Judd.

Hailed as Foremost Athlete

Jim Bausch, former University of Kansas football star, who won the decathlon at the Olympic games last Summer with a record-breaking point total, has added another laurel to his imposing wreath. Jim has been awarded the James E. Sullivan Memorial Medal as the outstanding amateur athlete of 1932. The award was voted on by over 600 sports authorities and the result announced by the A. A. U. Bill Carr, University of Pennsylvania, who starred in the 400-meters at the Olympics, was awarded second place.

SHOWS HOW NEW ENGLAND CAN AID BUSINESS RECOVERY

How New England can contribute toward business recovery in 1933 was pointed out by Henry D. Sharpe, President of the New England Council, in an address before the Boston Rotary Club at the Hotel Statler yesterday. Mr. Sharpe, who is President and Treasurer of the Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing Company, has served as Rhode Island Vice President of the New England Council since its organization at the suggestion of the New England Governors in 1925, and this was his first public address since assuming the Presidency on January 1.

"A question that should concern us in 1933," said Mr. Sharpe, "is: What can we in New England do toward establishing a real beginning in business recovery not only in New England but in the nation? As business men and as New Englanders we have tried to do all that we were called upon to do in hastening the coming of a happier day, but there are still great tasks to be performed which in our opinion are imperative."

"We must do our part in urging action of Congress in three ways: first, an honest balancing of the budget which means speedy enactment of fruitful taxation, and economy in national expenditures such as few of our legislators have as yet shown any evidence of understanding;

"Second, the summary removal from the situation of the incubus of international debt, a tremendous responsibility for this country, which implies the complete reversal of our political thinking for a decade;

"Lastly, an intelligent participation with the nations looking to a loosening of barriers to international trade in general. All of these measures would re-establish confidence, lead to increased trade and better commodity prices."

"Besides this there is a vital contribution which we in New England can make at home. This is, that we in New England, in state, city and town, proceed energetically to put our governmental houses in order and essentially effect reduction in public expenditure. As business men, we owe this to our own communities."

"In recent days, we have been confronted with word from Washington that little or nothing will be done in the present session of Congress. It seems to me that we should, as business men, reject such an attitude on the part of those elected to represent us at the national capital. I strongly believe it is our duty to remind those serving in our legislative bodies that they have very real

POLICE QUESTION BOYS WHO PLACED STONES ON LOCAL R. R. TRACKS

The Arlington police questioned several youths yesterday afternoon, suspected of having been responsible for the placing of stones, boards and iron pipes on the Boston & Maine railroad tracks in East Arlington and nearly causing a train to be derailed last Tuesday afternoon. Passengers on the 5:21 train from Boston to Bedford were jolted but escaped injury when Engineer Charles Ames applied the emergency brakes and brought the train to a sudden stop after the locomotive had plowed through the stones, boards and pipes. The engineer did not see the obstacles on the rail until after the locomotive had struck them. After the train had been brought to a stop the debris was removed from the tracks and, following a delay of eight minutes, the train proceeded. According to the train crew, two stones as large as a man's head, four boards and two pieces of iron pipe were placed on the tracks, Arlington and Boston & Maine police started an investigation at once.

POLICE AND FIREMEN TO GET AUTOMATIC SALARY INCREASE

Plan To Cut Down Street Light Budget

In order to reduce the "Street Lighting" budget for 1933 by ten percent, the joint board made up of the selectmen and public works department heads has recommended to the finance committee that all street lights be turned off two hours per day during the present year. It is expected that the lights will be turned off early in the morning, possibly from one-thirty until three-thirty o'clock. They can be turned on again for an hour or so to take care of those who have to get out early in the morning to go to work.

This action is part of the program undertaken to effect a ten percent cut in all budgets for the present year. This will help reduce the tax rate and maintain the town's present sound financial standing with banks.

Board Refuses To Cut Own Pay

By a vote of 11 to 7, the aldermen last night refused to cut out or donate their $300 per year salaries as aldermen to the city in 1933 and approved the appropriation of $6,300 for that purpose, in a discussion of the budget in committee of the whole.

The vote was: To abolish aldermanic salaries: Aldermen Alden, Donoghue, Holland, Martini, Spofford, Wellington and President Norton—7.

To continue the $300 per year salary per alderman: Aldermen Bray, Campbell, Cheatham, Fuller, Hassett, Higgins, Inman, Nicholson, Prior, Sanford, Twombly—11. Absent—Aldermen O'Sullivan and Prescott, the latter having been called away on business but returned late in the evening.

The aldermen, on motion of Alderman Inman, voted to donate $15 each per year out of their salaries to the city treasury to help out on city expenses, this representing five per cent. This totals $315.

Following some discussion, in which Mayor John H. Burke took up the report of the special committee of aldermen and citizens item by item and pointed out wherein he had varied from their recommendations, and why he had not followed such recommendations, the aldermen took up the budget, item by item, and approved all of the items as recommended by Mayor Burke until they adjourned at 10:30 until Friday night to complete their perusal of the budget.

Not a single cut was made by the aldermen in the amounts recommended by the mayor, and under the law they have no right to make any increases.

"Out The Window" Alderman Spofford declared that the special committee had rendered the city a real service but that ninety per cent of its report went "out the window" when Mayor Burke submitted his address and his budget recommendations. The contributory plan from all city salaries was one of the things which went "out the window," he said.

Board of Selectmen By Majority Vote Recommends Salary Increases Due To Certain Officers and Firemen—Ten Policemen and Eleven Firemen To Benefit—Third Selectman Favors Putting Off Increase Another Year

Members of the Arlington police and fire departments who are eligible to automatic increases in pay this year will get their raise as a result of action taken by the board of selectmen this week.

Ordinarily, according to established provisions, the salaries of police officers and firemen increase, from their first year, of full employment until the fifth. As the fifth year of employment is reached by the officer or fireman the final raise in pay is allowed and the maximum salary remains fixed until age or retirement.

Ten police officers and eleven firemen will benefit from the action taken by the selectmen. This will entail an additional expense of about $900 for the police department and about $500 for the firemen. The action of the board in granting the increase in pay was not unanimous as one member voted against it. This member of the board felt that all automatic increases in salaries due this year should be put off for another year so that the town might benefit from the saving which would thereby be effected.

Despite the opinion of this one selectman, many are of the opinion that police officers and firemen are entitled to every consideration coming to them and that the automatic increase in their salaries should go into effect this year. The officers and firemen who are to benefit from salary increases will contribute ten percent from their pay like all others throughout the present year. These contributions will aid in reducing the tax-rate this year.

The salary increase for police officers is effective as of January 1, while the increase for firemen goes into effect on May 1.

MAN ARRESTED HERE DENIES HAVING TAKEN PART IN SHOOTING

Guy Laurone, 24, of Beachmont who was arrested in Arlington when police from Boston and this town surrounded the house at 142 Oakland street where he was hiding, vigorously denied yesterday having taken part in Revere's New Year's Eve speakeasy shooting.

The arrest of Laurone was sensational. Armed with sawed off shotguns and wearing bullet-proof vests, a dozen East Boston and Arlington police burst into the house in Arlington Heights and arrested Laurone, wanted as one of the murderers of "Big Mike" Richard.

Laurone submitted quietly. He was hiding in the house of Joseph E. D'Amore, wealthy Boston contractor, at 142 Oakland street. The house of D'Amore's brother, Gerald, next door, was also searched. Lieut. Bernard Graham led 10 East Boston policemen to Arlington on a tip that George Brogan, sought as the leader of the handi 1930, was in hiding there. Laurone was found and taken. He is a relative of the D'Amores.

Laurone was booked at Arlington headquarters as a suspicious person, and then taken to Station 7 in East Boston, where he was held for Revere police.

Tips from the racketeers on whom they once preyed, kept police hot on the trail. Detectives declared the underworld is arrayed solidly against Brogan and his gang, who for the past year have strongarmed tribute from speakeasy owners, pool operators and other small-fry racketeers.

SCHOOL DEPARTMENT CONTRIBUTIONS REACH $10,331.61 MARK

Crosby Funeral To Take Place Tomorrow A. M.

The funeral of Patrick J. Crosby, who died at his home, 14 Cliff street, Lexington last Tuesday night will take place tomorrow morning. He was a former resident of Arlington.

A solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated in Sacred Heart Church, Lexington at 9 o'clock. Mr. Crosby was 58 years of age and born in Ireland. He had been in this country since boyhood and for many years was with the Braham Dow Company of Boston as a salesman. He was a member of Arlington Council, K. of C. A special meeting of the council will be held this evening at 7:30. Mr. Crosby is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mary and Katherine Crosby.

The contributions of the employees of the School Department in December for unemployment relief have brought the total amount so given for the year 1932 to $10,331.61. This was divided as follows: contributions last winter and spring, $2,950; contributions in October, $2,482.32; contributions in November, $2,457.90; contributions in December, $2,441.29.

Payments have been made to the Welfare Council of Arlington, to which the official town welfare department has referred cases during the last two months for which it did not have available funds.

To many, these contributions have meant a real sacrifice, in view of extraordinary obligations forced upon them by the depression, and of the modest wages received. They have cheerfully given, however, to help those who are in want, and to assist the town in financing welfare work.

To Be Taken At Face Value

When you pick up this newspaper and read the announcements of our local merchants, or those of national advertisers, you need never think to question the sincerity and honesty of their statements.

This reliance on Advertising has been brought about by Advertising, and is one of Advertising's greatest contributions to the satisfaction and ease of modern living.

An advertiser deliberately attempting to deceive takes the quick, short road to ruin. The insincere or extravagant statement may have its brief day. But the greater the attention it attracts, the sooner the public will discover and destroy its deceit.

The cornerstone of successful shopkeeping always has been "keep faith with the public;" give honest values and truthfully represent the merchandise and its service. This principal had to find its expression in Advertising—for Advertising is nothing more than the owner of the store or a factory talking with people in their homes about such things as shoes and soap, radios and rugs, blankets and bloomers.

It pays to read the advertisements. They are firsthand news of what is being invented, fashioned, and perfected in the workshops of the world for your well-being, comfort and convenience.

HOW TO STOP A COLD QUICK AS YOU CAUGHT IT

A New Method Doctors Everywhere Are Advising

Almost Instant Relief In This Way

If you have a cold—don't take chances with "cold killers" and nostrums. A cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

The simple method pictured above is the way doctors throughout the world now treat colds.

It is recognized as the QUICK-EST, safest, surest way. For it will check an ordinary cold almost as fast as you caught it.

That is because the real BAYER Aspirin embodies certain medical qualities that strike at the base of a cold almost INSTANTLY.

You can combat nearly any cold you get simply by taking BAYER Aspirin and drinking plenty of water every 2 to 4 hours the first day and 3 or 4 times daily thereafter. If throat is sore, gargle with 3 BAYER Aspirin Tablets crushed and dissolved in a half glass of warm water, repeating every 2 or 3 hours as necessary. Sore throat eases this way in a few minutes, incredible as this may seem.

Ask your doctor about this. And when you buy, see that you get the real BAYER Aspirin Tablets. They dissolve almost instantly. And thus work almost instantly when you take them. And for a gargle, Genuine Bayer Aspirin Tablets dissolve with sufficient speed and completeness, leaving no irritating particles or grittiness. Get a box of 12 or bottle of 100 at any drug store.

NO TABLETS ARE GENUINE BAYER ASPIRIN WITHOUT THIS CROSS

Belle on the Beach

It isn't only the sun that acts as a magnet in the balmy South; the scenery, too, has something to do with it. For instance, Mahanette Rucker adds a charming decorative note to the landscape at Miami, Fla. She is wearing the very latest thing in beach attire, and it looks okay to us.

Traveling Around America

THE W. R. Grace, romantic old sailing vessel of the "Down Easter" days, will again make the trip from New York to San Francisco. This time, however, she will not proceed by sail but will make the voyage on the newest of modern ships to ply between our eastern and western seaboard.

In startlingly true-to-life form this graceful sailing vessel has been reproduced by Charles E. Patterson, noted marine artist, in a large mural painting in the dining room of the new Grace Liner, "Santa Paula," which makes her maiden voyage from New York January 7th to California and the Pacific Northwest, via Havana, Panama, and the Central Americas.

The W. R. Grace, a main skyscraper three-deck ship, built in Bath, Maine, in 1873, was 218 ft. long, 42 ft. wide, and registered 180 tons. She was named after William R. Grace, founder of W. R. Grace & Co.—an organization which for almost three quarters of a century has been active in the development of trade routes between New York and California. On the twelve runs the W. R. Grace made to San Francisco by way of Cape Horn, her fastest time was 115 days.

The first commander of the W. R. Grace was Captain Dudley O. Black of Seaport, Maine, an outstanding example of the finest type of merchant navigator. Captain Black, before his death in 1882, completed seven round trips in her command. He was succeeded by Captain Joseph W. Walcutt, who remained in command until the "W. R. Grace" met her fate along with about 30 other vessels in a terrific hurricane near Lewes, Delaware, in September, 1889, with all hands saved.

have transformed the ocean voyage into a more or less casual affair, and made cruising the favorite method of travel.

A circle was then formed around a model campfire and singing was led by Barbara Kendall of Troop 3.

Dr. J. S. Kadesch Speaks On The Public Schools

On opening the meeting of the West Medford Women's club Tuesday, the chairman announced that Dr. J. Stevens Kadesch, superintendent of Medford schools, would speak before the business meeting took place.

Dr. Kadesch spoke interestingly on the slashing of appropriations for school purposes and said in part, "That it is the one institution in our country that serves future generations and any reduction in the amount of money used for education is a detriment to the country as a whole."

Mrs. Percy C. Farwell, chairman of the guest night committee, asked members to bear in mind, January 27th, and promised a delightful evening, entertainment, dancing and refreshments to celebrate the club's 18th birthday. It is to be held at Pitman academy.

The program for the afternoon was in charge of the music committee, Mrs. Wilbur A. True, chairman, who introduced Mrs. Marie Murray, contralto, Miss Barbara Whitney, harpist and Carl Feldman, pianist.

Miss Barbara Whitney delighted club members with "A Jig," "Impromptu Caprice," "Brook in the Woods," and a concerto accompanied by Mr. Feldman, who played the orchestral parts on the piano.

Mrs. Marie Murray thrilled her audience with many favorites, among them, "Dreaming," by John Marshall, a Boston composer; "Trees," "Glimpses," a song that made its debut at the Federation convention at Seattle; "The Piper," "Ships of Arad," "Slumber Song of the Madonna," "The Cuckoo Clock" and "I Love You Truly." This song had been changed to suit her rich contralto voice. Mrs. Murray has a worthy reputation which she well maintains.

Carl Feldman, a pianist of exceptional ability, very capably accompanied both Mrs. Murray and Miss Whitney.

At the conclusion of the program, members and friends spent an enjoyable social hour in the tea room where chocolate and dainty cakes were served by the hospital committee, Mrs. Forrest G. Parker, chairman.

Milton Wage Cut May Be Taken Before Court

Declaration that if town officials of Milton persist in their decision to cut the wages of police and firemen, rather than accept voluntary contributions from members of these departments, the matter will be laid before the courts, was made in Milton Town Hall, by George A. McLaughlin, counsel for the employees of the public safety branches of the town government.

He made this statement in his summing up at the conclusion of a public hearing which had been continued from Dec. 21 and which was completed this week. There were about sixty persons present, including police and firemen. The entire board of selectmen, George S. Murray, Josiah Babcock and William B. Thurber, was on hand, with Felix Rackemann sitting in as a friend of the board and as personal counsel for Mr. Murray.

Mr. McLaughlin, who represented both departments of the town employees, is general counsel for the Massachusetts Police Association. Co-operating with him at the hearing was Arthur B. Grimes of Brookline, a certified public accountant. The wage cuts announced range from 10 to 12 1-2 per cent.

When the hearing was declared closed the selectmen made no statement.

In his summing up, after voicing the threat of court action, Mr. McLaughlin entered protests for both police and firemen against the hearing, characterizing it as the most palpably unfair civil service hearing he had ever attended.

Furthermore, he declared, he considered the town had offered practically no evidence in support of its action. He said that the men are willing to make voluntary contributions, that the police already have advanced such an offer, and that he believes they should be given that opportunity, stating that only two communities in Massachusetts have refused to permit such action in lieu of wage cuts.

Under questioning by Mr. Murray, Mr. Grimes admitted that because of the severe economic depression it undoubtedly is true that Milton is faced with reduced income from the State and said that on an average, Milton residents undoubtedly are suffering because of the depression. However, he expressed the opinion that the cost of living for police and firemen is not less than in 1929.

He favored contributions rather than cuts and expressed the belief that although 1933 will not be as bad as 1932, real recovery from the slump will not begin until 1934, adding that this seems to be the opinion of the financial world.

St. Joseph's Girls Have Regular Meeting

The regular meeting of St. Joseph's Girls' club, was held in the church, Tuesday afternoon, at 4 p. m. Announcements were made of the play which will be held sometime in February for the members.

Following Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament the meeting adjourned at 4:45.

Tragedy of Disappointment

Tragedy followed swiftly on the heels of disappointment when beautiful Pauline Peterson (left), 20-year-old student at Northwestern University, and her mother were slain by her father, Peter Peterson (right), for twenty years a chauffeur for the wealthy Studebaker family. Peterson killed his wife and daughter after a newly-found will of Clement Studebaker, Jr., retracted a $5,000 bequest made him in a previous will. The disappointed man committed suicide after the double murder.

McKnight's Counsel Argues Motion To Quash Indictments

The case of Edwin T. McKnight, ex-president of the closed Medford Trust Company, and 10 other defendants facing indictment in connection with the affairs of the closed Industrial Bank and Trust Company, were before Judge Greenhalge in Suffolk Superior Court.

John T. Hull, son of John C. Hull, director of the securities division of the Public Utilities Department, and Andrew Jensen Jr., waived a jury trial and the Judge made a finding of not guilty, after Asst. Dist. Atty. John J. Murphy had stated that Dist. Atty. William J. Foley believed there was insufficient evidence against them.

The two were charged with conspiracy to have Hull sell securities without being a registered broker, and Hull alone was charged with selling securities without being a registered broker.

Government witnesses were then excused, and the court heard arguments on some of the 253 motions before it. Ex-United States Atty. Daniel J. Gallagher, counsel for McKnight, argued with Mr. Murphy a motion to quash, and ex-Asst. Dist. Atty. Timothy F. Callahan, counsel for William J. Wallace, a clerk of the closed bank, argued a motion to have all counts against his client tried at one time. Judge Greenhalge took these motions under advisement.

The newly elected officers were inducted into office during the program of the evening and each new officer made a short address.

The surprise gift to Mr. Hanlon was presented by Henry Buccell, new vice president, who, on behalf of his fellow members, expressed the sincerest gratitude of the Club to President Hanlon for his diligent work in connection with the club's activities during the past year.

About 75 were present. The club's fourth annual dance will be held at Pitman's next Tuesday evening.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Repeat a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

THE FUTILE FEELING

Beginning the working year, an important business executive sat at his desk, yesterday, fingering a new notebook. The desk was, as usual, in perfect order. No clutter of odds and ends is ever permitted to interfere with the uninterrupted flow of documents and memoranda across that smooth surface. But this paragon of efficiency in administration was evidently troubled by the notebook he held in his hand.

"I suppose," he said plaintively, "that I will have no more use for this book than I have had for the other personal cash accounts that I have begun each January 1 for the past decade. No entries have been made by me in any year after January 16." And this matter of destiny sighed like a decrepit down-and-out.

His mood is shared by many resolvers everywhere. The account books and diaries of yesterday are almost as good as new, except for those few entries in the first month of the year. Innocent little children play with these volumes which witness to the high purpose and small achievement of their elders.

A realist philosophy would face the situation calmly. It is possible to live within one's means without spending valuable hours trying to keep track of an elusive cent. The best way is to put the weekly allowance for lunch, carfare and tobacco into one pocket, leaving the rest of the contents of the pay envelope with friend wife. When the allotted sum has gone the health may be improved by walking and by abstinence. Meanwhile the spirit is free of the late January inferiority complex.—The Boston Globe.

COMPETING WITH TAXPAYERS

Why should Uncle Sam sell a commodity or service such as printing in competition with local, privately owned, tax-paying printing plants?

Why should 15,000 postoffices be used as order takers for a service that is not an essential function of the post-office department or a necessary service in handling the mails?

The reason for raising these questions is that Uncle Sam offers to print return cards on stamped envelopes. With a "local dealer", or sales agency in the United States postoffice located in every center of population in the land, Uncle Sam does a volume of printing business that enables him to offer customers a ridiculously low price. The orders for printed stamped envelopes total a billion and a half a year—over 4,000,000 for each of the 365 days in the year!

The purchasers of this service offered by Uncle Sam are not the "common people," some of whom address letters improperly and thereby contribute to the cost of maintaining the dead letter office. Banks, retail merchants, professional men, manufacturers, the public schools, colleges, fraternal organizations—all dependent upon prosperous towns, home trade, local pay rolls, taxpayers able to pay their taxes—these constitute the customers who take advantage of Uncle Sam's bargain price on printed envelopes.

If it's O. K. for Uncle Sam to sell printing, why not extend a good thing and insist that he add to his line and thus serve a much larger number of postoffice patrons? Why not add a grocer's apron to the printer's apron Uncle Sam now wears? Why not sell breakfast food, evaporated milk, butter, shoes, drugs, dry goods, clothing, etcetera, over the postoffice counter?

Unless Uncle Sam quits printing business, printers should obtain signatures from postoffice patrons to a petition demanding that the postoffice department sell not only printing—but other products. Think of the saving in price that would be possible through enormous volume and frequent turnovers! And Uncle Sam is lucky; he doesn't have to pay taxes.

Traveling Around America

ONE of the strangest features of Panama hats is that the best of them come from Ecuador and not from Panama. The name "Panama" arose from the fact that these hats were originally shipped to and exported from Panama. The plant from which the straw is obtained is called toquilla—a shrub with fan-shaped leaves which grows to a height of five to ten feet. Natives cut the leaves from the plant before they open, remove the outer surface, and split the leaves into thin strips. Then they dip them into boiling water, hang them up to dry in the shade, and a day or two later place them in the sun to bleach. In a few days the strips shrivel to about the size of a cord, and are ready for weaving. The little factories where "Panama" hats are made are among the most entertaining sights enjoyed by travelers taking the fortnightly "Santa" cruises from New York and California to Ecuador. The highly skilled native weavers, from four to ten in number, sit in front of blocks nimbly braiding the toquilla—moistening their fingers frequently as they work, from coconut shells filled with water, so that the straw will remain pliable and not crack. The best hats are woven in sunless rooms—in the early morning hours while moisture is still in the air. It is the latter fact which gave rise to the erroneous belief that Panama hats are woven under water. In the most perfect specimens, the weave is so fine that the straw can be rolled and drawn through a finger ring. The very best hats cost as much as $100 in Guayaquil, chief port of Ecuador, and sometimes sell for $50 in the United States.

Daddy Sunshine Club Rules

1. Be kind and helpful to others.
2. Look both ways when crossing streets.
3. Always be kind to dumb animals.
4. Write a letter to Daddy Sunshine, or have Mother or Dad write it for you, every now and then.
5. Try to bring a "Ray" of Sunshine into the lives of your parents and others every day of the week and every week of the year.

These rules are not very difficult for good girls and boys to keep. Most of them are kept by them anyway. Mail your letters and stories to Daddy Sunshine, in care of this paper. He will answer them in the Daddy Sunshine Column.

Write on but one side of the paper, and place your age and address on the letter after your name. Give the day, month and year of your birth.

To join the club all you have to do is promise to keep the rules—and keep them.

HOW OLD IS DAN?

Dear Daddy Sunshine:
 Now here's a problem in a rhyme for the Sunshine Page. If you should care to take the time to figure on his age.

First add nineteen to thirty-three
 Then three, nine, three and one;
 Subtract eleven then you'll see
 He's far from being young.

And when the summer month appears
 With roses sweet in bloom
 Then comes the marker of Dan's years
 That had its start in June.

That's the time that we have known
 Dan Cupid and his bow.
 Romance through the years has shown
 He started long ago.

Well after all we do not care
 About Dan Cupid's age.
 We want the thought of love to share
 Upon the Sunshine Page.

Verna Writes Again

Town Property To Be Insured For 7 P. C. Less

The firm of Russell Fairchild & Ellis which has charge of insuring the public buildings for the town of Arlington was notified by the board of selectmen yesterday of its recommendation that the valuation of the town property be reduced 7 1-2 percent.

This action will mean a good saving on insurance premiums which the town must pay this year. With this depreciation in the value of the town's property it will mean that the sum usually budgeted for insurance can be substantially reduced for 1933. It is felt by all concerned that the reduction of 7 1-2 percent will still allow for sufficient insurance on town property.

SHOWS HOW

that in the New England Council, New England now has a regional organization, representative of our business interests, which for seven years has been exerting an increasingly favorable influence upon New England Governors, the Council has been a real factor in New England's economic progress in the last few years.

Composed of representative business leaders from each of the six New England states, enjoying the cordial cooperation of the Governors and working with existing business organizations, the Council has successfully served New England as a stimulating body and a coordinating agency. The organization machinery that the Council provides should be of especial value to us in such a year of readjustment and transition as 1933 promises to be. Its effective support and use by the business men of New England will enable us to speed up the process of putting our own economic household in order, make some contribution toward national business recovery, and to share in that business recovery as much and as soon as any part of the United States.

—Notices concerning the requirements for Class Day parts were posted yesterday. These include Valedictorian, Essayist, Poet, Historian and Ivy Orator. It is necessary to have a "B" average for three years in order to obtain one of these parts.

The members of this committee will tell the pupils in their home rooms about these various bids and on Friday, the senior class as a whole, will vote on the matter.

Don't Get Up Nights Make this 25c Test

You need a bladder physic to drive out impurities and excessive acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. Get a 25c test box of BUKETS, the bladder physic, from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of getting up nights to get your money back. BUKETS, containing buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., acts on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains arising from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. Liggett's Drug Store says BUKETS is a best seller.

—The Senior Prom committee met to formulate plans for the dance. The affair will be held at Pitman academy Feb. 3rd. Sub-committees for refreshments and orchestra were appointed.

—The Medford Hi-Y club opened its athletic activities with a win over the Malden Hi-Y group in basketball. The score was 12-6, and the game was played at the Malden Y. M. C. A. The Medford organization held an induction at the Malden chambers.

—The many students in the Public Speaking department and the Dramatic club will be pleased to learn of the success of Edward Curtin, '31, at Bates college. "Ed" will be remembered as the first prize winner in the Prize Speaking contest in his Senior year at high school. He is a Freshman at Bates and played the lead in a recent play. The following item on Curtin is taken from the Lewiston, Me., Daily Sun: "Mr. Curtin as Jimmy was very much in character from the start to the finish. He has a pleasing stage personality and made a most favorable impression as the young hero. Curtin has already appeared in a previous production entitled 'If Men Played at Cards as Women do'." Another item on the play read as follows: "The leading characters, Miss Benham and Mr. Curtin, were as attractive and likeable pair as one could wish for."

—This is a big week in sports for the high school athletes. The Alumni track meet was run off with unusual success. The hockey team scheduled to play Newton yesterday, had to postpone the game due to poor ice. They will get in action Thursday against the Arlington high team and will face the Rindge team at the Boston Garden on Saturday.

The famed Fitchburg High basketball five invades Medford tomorrow night to give Medford High its stiffest opposition of the season at the High School gym.

The second teams of the schools will play starting at 7:30. The main game is due to start shortly after 8 o'clock.

Like Medford, the visiting five, despite reports of their supposed, strong team, has suffered one ent quintet that takes the floor against the Amiot-coached five tomorrow night.

Team Improved
Dick Dealy is in much better shape now than he was in the opener. The offense has been speeded with Rustigan and Gurney passing and shooting much more accurately than they did.

Ray Belliveau, Fitchburg forward, possesses a deadly eye for the strings and will bear careful watching. Capt. Reino Fillback, Belliveau's mate on the forward line, is a bearcat on the offense.

Between the above mentioned duet they have scored the bulk of the Fitchburg points to date. Johnny Duguid and Hyttinen take care of the defense.

Fitchburg is in midseason shape, having played the Alumni, Leominster and Brockton, but with the fast coming Medford aggregation improving as they have in the last week, the battle should be a red hot one from the opening gun.

MAGOUNS OF SOMERVILLE DRUB COMPANY E FIVE AT ARMORY LAST EVENING

Company E, Lawrence Light Guard, was badly smothered in the first game at the Armory last night, 42-18, by the Magoun A. C. of Somerville. The score, however, does indicate the high class of basketball displayed in the game.

Although sadly outclassed from the very beginning, it was evident from the first whistle the opponents were far too strong for the remodeled local military crew to take on in the first home game of the 1933 season.

Two of Medford's basketball prides, Bud Stillman and John Bohn who sported the colors of the former Medford Teachers' five, which quintet caused so much commotion at the Armory in their games with the Company E outfit of last year and previous years were in the Magoun's lineup.

Stillman and Bohn led the terrific attack of the Magoun gang and caused more than a little trouble for the Guardsmen. At the conclusion of the first half the Somerville crowd was in front 20-11 and at no point thereafter relinquished that lead. They added to this advantage in the third period at the end of which the score stood 30-14.

The blinding passing combination which Stillman and Bohn presented was the general undoing of Manager Joe Reardon's Company E boys.

Mose Hanley, the dead shot of Company E, was absent from the lineup for more than three full periods; he went into action midway in the final stanza.

The second team lost to the Phantoms of Medford 42-18. Bob Winn and Will Colclough now playing with the Arlington Pals, were sorely missed the local quintet has some mighty fine material to go through its present schedule. Hamilton, a new face in the Company's lineup, looks good but lacks the experience of the others.

Bud Hogan, Herb Doyle at center and Paul Murphy, saw first team service last year and are bound to come along as the season progresses. The veterans, Al Colclough, Capt. Manus Kane and Mose Hanley are up to their last

Keen Bouts In Diamond Belt Show

Never before in any special tournament held in New England, except at New England championships, has there been such outstanding amateur boxers entered as those who will appear on the card for the final Diamond Belt Tournament which the Irish American A. C. will stage at the Boston Arena on Monday evening, January 9th. It will be the first big amateur boxing show of the 1933 season and Manager Jim Barry sent out word from the club's headquarters yesterday that all of the eight championship classes on the card have been filled with the best boys in New England. The winners of each of the preliminary tournaments held by the club during the past two months will come together in this greatest amateur boxing tournament held in Boston for many years. All of the boys are stars in their respective weights and the boxing fans of New England are in for an evening of real boxing, something they have been longing for during the past fall season. With none of the professional clubs sponsoring shows previous to January 9th, the coming Irish American A. C. offering should have the fans all on edge.

The competitors in the eight championship classes will come from Watertown, Boston, East Boston, Malden, Melrose, Somerville, Lawrence, Brockton, Peabody, Fall River, Nashua, N. H.; Athol, Randolph, Fitchburg, No. Brookfield, Cambridge, Waltham, Everett and Haverhill. In fact this tournament could almost be called a championship of New England in that it will bring together the best boxers from all sections of this part of the country.

There are many incentives for the competing in the Diamond Belt Fight in that it gives the winners entrance to the State Boxing Championships which are to be held the latter part of February, the New England championships the latter part of March and the National Junior championships at Baltimore the first part of March as well as the National Senior championships which will come to Boston again after a lapse of two years during which time they were staged in New York.

The greatest four flyweights ever assembled from the amateur ranks at a big amateur show in Boston will strive for the honor of winning the Diamond Belt in the coming show when Gene Morrello of Watertown, who has been most successful during his short amateur career, Ernest Whitney of Boston, a close second to the Watertown brawler; Jit LaBella of East Boston, a great club fighter and one that will make a hit with the fans, and not forgetting the "Malden Spark Plug" Max Sparks, start throwing gloves at one another in this tournament.

Another great class of boys will show in the featherweight division which boasts of Al Synnot of Fall River, who has been knocking out all his opponents in every tournament that he takes part. He is a great two fisted fighter and the fans from Fall River who journey to Boston to see him perform will be well repaid for their time and trouble. He looks great and is certain to have a great future if he follows up the boxing game. Pitted against Synnot will be Joe "Geno" Genovese of Boston, winner of many tournaments in Metropolitan Boston, Al Nania of Roslindale, one of the best boys in his weight in Boston and Abe Denner of the West End of Boston, winner of the last two tournaments at the Boston Athletic Association in the 126 lbs. class.

"Smiling" Jimmy's Brother Is Now A Malden Fireman
Two new firemen, Joseph M. Henigan of 120 Avon street and Francis M. Melanson of 67 Lawrence street, both of Malden, were appointed by the Malden fire department by Fire Commissioner John H. Hannan. Henigan is a brother of James P. Henigan, famous Marathon runner.

KVO Revue On Air Saturday
On Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, the regular weekly broadcast of the pupils of Miss Kathleen Vincent O'Hara, "The KVO Revue", will be presented from Station WBOS, Babson Park, with Teresa Laurie as the mistress of ceremonies and Mrs. Mary Mooney, pianist.

Last Saturday an excellent program was given by the children, Little Betty Thorson, who needs little or no introduction to Medford audiences or to members of the Daddy Sunshine club, was the mistress of ceremonies. She introduced the following children: Marjorie Davidson, Ruthie Laurie, Evelyn Harkness, Baby Letoria Simmons, George Higgins, Evelyn Dowling, Helene Spring, Kathleen McGonagle, Teresa Laurie, Betty Marshall, Patsy Young, Janet Robbins and Margaret Pothier.

Estimates will be given on public address systems for sound trucks, public halls, etc., and the concern plans to build short-wave sets on order and to the customer's exact specifications. ## "I Am a Fugitive" Teems With Thrills Drama, Action, Love

The actual dynamiting of a bridge in a convict's dash for freedom is but one of the many spectacular scenes in "I Am a Fugitive From a Chain Gang," a Warner Bros. picture which will start a three days run at the Medford Theatre today.

Paul Muni, the "Scarface" of the screen, from a stolen careening truck, throws a stick of dynamite to blow up a bridge and makes the picture one of the most powerful dramas of recent years, according to the critical Hollywood preview audiences.

Faul Muni, as the convict, portrays the role of a man who has been sentenced to a chain gang, but who, unable to stand the tortures inflicted, escapes. This begins a series of events which include three glamorous love affairs, a betrayal by a jealous wife, and a return to the chain gang, from which he escapes a second time in an even more sensational manner.

The story of the thrilling events was adopted from the autobiography of Robert F. Burns, who is even now a fugitive. It has been realistically transferred to the screen under the direction of Serryn LeRoy, one of Hollywood's best directors.

Supporting Muni is one of the largest and ablest casts assembled in many months. Gladys Farrell, Helen Vinson, Sheila Terry, Preston Foster, and David Langdon are but a few of the many outstanding featured players who have important roles in the picture, in addition to more than 50 players with speaking parts. 2,000 extras were used.

Industry Seeks $411,766,000 Veterans' Slash

WASHINGTON.—Savings aggregating $411,766,000 annually in veterans' relief costs were advocated before a joint congressional committee by the National Committee for Economy in Government, functioning under the auspices of the National Association of Manufacturers. The suggested decreases follow:

In administrative costs, $19,848,000.
Giving Spanish-American war veterans pensions "only on account of death or disabilities directly due to war service," $104,757,000.

Reducing expenditures for World War veterans, $287,161,000, divided as follows:

Hospital construction, $12,877,000.
Retirement pay, $6,336,000.
Hospitalization, $30,534,000.
Disability allowance, $104,278,000.

Disability compensation, $108,136,000.
War risk insurance, $25,000,000.

In a lengthy statement presented by James A. Emery, counsel, and H. A. Giddings of Waynesboro, Va., chairman, the organization contended Federal expenditures must be reduced because "The tax burden upon American industry has now risen to a point which amounts to a substantial capital levy."

Reduced Taxes Essential

"The Economy Committee contended that 'reduced taxes upon industry, which requires decreased governmental expenditures, are necessary if industry as a whole is to again provide a satisfactory volume of employment for workers and reasonable profits for investors. The ability of industry to furnish additional employment will very largely depend upon the tax burden imposed this winter by Congress and State legislatures.'"

The group urged as principles to govern Federal expenditures for veterans:

"Generous and liberal" compensation for veterans disabled in service, their dependents, and the dependents of those killed in action.

"Adequate educational rehabilitation advantages for all veterans, whether or not injured in military service."

Chain Stores Win Important Tax Test

DETROIT.—That municipal corporations have no right, either under general law or home rule charter, to enact city ordinances levying discriminatory taxes on chain stores, is the decision handed down by Judge Theodore J. Richter of the Circuit Court of Wayne County, who granted a permanent injunction on petition of the Kroger Grocery & Baking Company, enjoining the City Council of Hamtramck from enforcing the chain store ordinance.

"Whatever are the rights of cities to regulate food stores," stated Judge Richter in his opinion, "they cannot, under the guise of regulation or of taxation, adopt an ordinance calling for the payment of different amounts for the same privilege—that of operating one store—just because the one store in addition operates a second, a third or more stores. Such classification is arbitrary

Motion Lost 11 to 7 To Save $6,300 From Salary Item

Alderman Donoghue moved that the committee take up the report of the special committee. He said that the mayor had made his recommendations and that he had not recommended taxing himself one cent although he was putting into effect days off without pay for other officials. Donoghue charged the mayor had not cut his office expenses but he had cut down the aldermanic contingent from $1188 to $350. "Why is he so kind to his own office?" Donoghue asked. "Is he going to take any days off? Absolutely not!" Donoghue continued.

Alderman Campbell moved to consider the special committee report in connection with consideration of the mayor's budget and this motion prevailed.

Urges Out in Own Pay

Alderman Wellington said he believed the board should start in by cutting its own salaries. He moved that the $6,300 item for aldermanic salaries be stricken from the budget.

Alderman Spofford declared that aldermen could not very well go before the laborers, the city employees, the teachers and all others asking days off without pay, without taking action on its own pay. He believed the $6,300 item for aldermanic salaries should be cut from the budget.

Alderman Campbell said the mayor had recommended the $6,300 item and had made no provision for salary reductions for the aldermen. He believed the budget, as submitted by the mayor, should stand, including the salaries for the aldermen.

Five Per Cent Gift
The motion to abolish the aldermanic salaries was then lost, Yes 7, No 11 on roll call vote.

Alderman Donoghue then moved that the salary per member be cut from $300 to $200. Alderman Spofford seconded the motion.

Alderman Inman amended to have the aldermen donate five per cent of their pay as aldermen to the city. The motion was greeted with laughter from the large audience present. Alderman Nicholson seconded the motion.

The amendment was carried by rising vote 12 to 5 with Alderman Wellington, Donoghue, Spofford, Alden and Holden voting in the minority.

Salary Agreement

Alderman Fuller wanted to know what right the mayor had to reduce salaries established by ordinance.

President Norton said that he supposed reductions could be made in the amount paid for 1933 if the persons affected agreed to take days off without pay.

Alderman Wellington wanted to know if the aldermen appropriated the sums recommended by the mayor for salaries, which had the days off without pay deducted, if the officials had any comeback on the city to collect the balance where the salary was stated by ordinance.

President Norton answered that the charter provided no pay changes could be made by the aldermen and go into effect the same year. But if the mayor had secured the agreement of the persons affected and they had agreed to give back to the city part of their pay, he saw no reason why it could not be done, but the aldermen have no power to make reductions effectively the same year.

Alderman Wellington asked if the aldermen cut the clerk of committees pay $49 more than it had been reduced, if the board was within its rights.

Department Heads Agreed
Mayor Burke said that every head of a department had been invited to his office last Saturday and the matter had been talked over. He declared the budget as submitted was most equitable.

He said the aldermen had the right to reject the budget and if they did so, then the full salaries would go in and that there would be no saving of $413,000 to the city.

Answering a question by Alderman Wellington, Mayor Burke said that the five and ten per cent donations of last year had not become available until the end of the year. The full amount of salary had to be appropriated in the budget and consequently went into the tax rate. By the days off without pay, the money does not have to be appropriated and hence helps reduce the tax rate.

Alderman Wellington made a plea for the man getting small pay, declaring those receiving the larger pay should turn back the larger amount to the city. He said that in the mayor's plan the laborer would lose 16 per cent as against only five per cent last year.

Special Provisions

Mayor Burke said that in the matter of the library, police and fire departments, schools, welfare department and legal departments special provision had been made because those were departments rendering service. It is not the question of the salaries we are paying, but the payrolls we are confronted with, which is to be considered, the mayor said. He declared he opposed reductions in salary to competent employees and said that home owners on the payrolls of the city would benefit by the days off plan in that their tax bills would be smaller.

The mayor declared that if employees of the city who wanted to question the plan had the right to carry the matter to the Supreme court and that if they won, then somebody will have to lose their jobs to keep within the budget totals.

Mayor Burke wanted to know if the special committee had found cases of where there were too many employees.

Alderman Wellington replied they had found some such cases, also cases where there were not enough employees to do the work properly. He said he thought it a crime that the workingman was going to have to suffer most and that a year ago the mayor had said the five and ten per cent donations was the most equitable plan.

Alderman Donoghue charged that the mayor did not consider the contributory plan because if would affect him; that being the boss he could recommend days off which would not affect his pay. He declared the board could pass resolutions from here to Jericho and if the mayor did not see fit to act on them, they go out the window. He believed the report of the committee should be accepted.

Put Cards on Table

Mayor Burke, asking the privilege of floor, said let's put the cards on the table now; let's have the matter settled here and now. This report your committee has brought in is the greatest attempt to defraud and deceive the public I know of and I defy anyone to contradict that statement. The recommendations made in this report are all based on the 1931 budget, not the 1932 expenditures and many of the recommendations were carried into effect by me last year and have been in effect for a year.

The member from Ward 2 has attempted to bring in personalities. He has rights in this board. A resolution is only an expression of an opinion of the board. This board has the right to legislate but not to order the executive department, yet the Resolutions committee has sent three orders to my office ordering certain things to be done.

This report comes in, not at the last meeting of the board, but at a special meeting called after the last meeting of the year has been held. This board has the right to amend the ordinances and I have not that right.

If this committee is so anxious to have cuts made, why didn't it bring in recommendations and amend the ordinances, making salary reductions. The whole report interferes with the functions of the executive department. Alderman Donoghue can't teach me anything about the rules of this board. I served in this board for five years and during that time I studied its rules and its functions.

If he'll show where five cents for convention expenses were paid in 1932, I'll resign my office in the morning. Those expenses which this report shows were for 1931. They have already been cut from the 1932 budget and again in the budget now before us. This whole report shows lack of knowledge of the expenditures of the 1932 city government.

I didn't have to submit the contributory plan in 1932. I could have sat idly by and told your board of aldermen that it alone had the power to change the salary ordinances. I'm willing to fight for my budget recommendations.

I hope the gentleman from Ward 2 does not question my record again.

Alderman Spofford said this appeared to be a two man scrap and he didn't like to get into it. He felt the report was not what the mayor had termed it. The committee had worked from Oct. 4 and not an item in it ordered him to do anything. The committee knew it could only request. He hoped the mayor would take the report in the spirit in which it had been sent to him.

Mayor Burke said he appeared before the special committee and gave it all the information it asked of him. So far as the report is concerned, the mayor said, it is all right in purpose, but there are things in it which are out the window.

So far as employment of married women is concerned, your board can correct that matter. I'll replace the collector with one who will fire married women if your board says so.

The mayor then replied to recommendations in the report, item by item. He declared money raised by bond issues must be used for the purpose for which borrowed. He said the committee should find out how long ago he took up the matter of rates charged the city at the Lawrence Memorial hospital. He said the school committee alone had power to suspend automatic increases there and that in the case of fire and police, the matter was governed by ordinance and the aldermen had the right to change the ordinances. I'll refuse to take away the rights of laborers, regarding vacations enjoyed by others.

He praised City Treasurer Ward and pointed out why the city was better off not to advertise for loans. If any bank wants to loan money to Medford at a lower rate than it is paying, the mayor said, he would be glad to have him sent around.

He said the street lighting was under a contract executed in 1923 and if the city broke it, it would forfeit more than the cost of the balance of the contract. He declared that when it does expire, he will get a lower rate from the company or will take other means of securing the lights.

If the committee had come to me, the mayor said, with this report, I would have gone over it with them and the matter would have been cleaned up in one night.

If anybody has a better plan than suggested, Mayor Burke said, he would be glad to accept it. The budget makes greater reductions than the committee report.

If there is any item in the budget you don't believe should

FAMOUS LECTURER ON INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS AT MEDFORD WOMEN'S CLUB

It was a great privilege of which they were soon well aware, for the members and guests of the Medford Women's club to hear Miss Alice Hunt of Rhode Island speak on "Current Events and International Relations." Miss Hunt, a graduate of Wellesley College, has traveled widely abroad and there attended many of the important conferences, including those at Geneva and Lausanne. Her talk revealed the broad and sane viewpoint that only an expert with first-hand knowledge could give, and her delivery was delightful in its case and the magnetic personality it revealed.

Being "a great believer in stylish minds" it is not longer fashionable not to be internationally minded, according to the speaker. Easy transportation has made the world interdependent and if any country fails to carry her share of her load it is hard on the rest.

America too has changed. She has become an industrial nation of great power and has taken the place of world leadership previously held by England. This difficult position, for which the United States has had no previous training, is made more difficult by changing world-wide conditions under which the lower classes everywhere refuse to be longer submissive and demand their share of the world's goods. No one has any further use for poverty and injustice.

In explaining the debt situation Miss Hunt brought out the point that never before have huge sums of actual gold been moved, as in now the case when Europe pays us. This has so upset money and trade conditions that it makes business worse in this country each time gold comes in from Europe. On the other hand, if we should cancel the debts it would only mean the sum of $2.50 to each of us. "And what be there, cut it out, the mayor said.

Spofford—The report came in a day or two ahead of the budget. If the mayor has adopted any part of it, the committee is happy in that fact.

Mayor—If there was anything good in the report, be sure that I got it.

The board then took up the budget items and progressed as far as the welfare department when adjournment was taken.

is that small sum to anyone if he has a job?" exclaimed Miss Hunt. Going on to speak of European countries individually, something vital was said about each, and it was particularly interesting to hear that the speaker considered that Japan had more than she could manage in China and would eventually give up the struggle. The coming together of Russia and China makes this all the more probable.

The music for the afternoon was equally noteworthy. It was furnished by Norman Arnold, tenor, A. Ralph Talbot, baritone, and Earl Weidner, pianist. These popular artists have a wide reputation for excellence and gave an especially fine program of well-chosen selections which were most enthusiastically received.

The International Relations committee of which Mrs. Walter M. Wing is chairman should receive much credit for this fine program. Mrs. Frank V. Broug was the acting chairman, presenting the artists of the afternoon. Members of the Medford League of Women Voters were the guests of the club, and cordially welcomed by the president, Mrs. William B. Wells.

Tea was served after the meeting, with Mrs. George W. Bale acting as tea hostess.
